Decorations in ball-room and in the dining-room, where Ranscher, from Washington, D. C., is to direct affairs, will be in palms, ferns and roses. Conspicuous in ball-room adornment will be the club flag and the hunt colors, which are gray and scarlet. Contrasting with these will be the many worn visitors from different out-of-town clubs.

The ball will open brilliantly with the "Hunt Lancers." By request, a description of the figures in this most graceful of square dances has been furnished by Professor Thilow, and for the information of those interested is furnished here: Figure 1. THE INEVITABLE.

By MRS. BOLTON.

Sarah Knowles Bolton was born at Farmington, Conn., September 15, 1841, She lives in Cleveland, O. She was educated at the seminary established by Catherine Beecher at Hartford, She has been a contributor to many magazines, and also one of the editors of the Congregationalist. She has been assistant corresponding secretary of the National Women's Christian Temperance Union. Her son, Charles Knowles Bolton, who was graduated from Harvard in 1890, is also an author.

LIKE the man who faces what he must
With step triumphant and a heart of cheer;
Who fights the daily battle without fear;
Sees his hopes fail, yet keeps unfaltering trust
That God is God,—that somehow, true and just,
His plans work out for mortals; not a tear
Is shed when fortune which the world holds dear,
Falls from his grass—better with love a crust Talls from his grasp—better, with love, a crust
Than living in dishonor; envies not,
Nor loses faith in man; but does his best,
Nor ever murmurs at his humbler lot;
But, with a smile and words of hope, gives zest
To every toiler. He alone is great
Who by a life heroic conquers fate.

Refreshments were served by a number of charming young girls and the whole affair was a success.

The new building is on the site of the old one, at the corner of Fourth and Franklin Streets. It is owned by Mr. Charles Hutzler, who has carefully considered the details necessary to a comfortable library building. The rooms are well lighted and heated, and present an attractive appearance with their rows of new shelves and library furniture.

Those in charge hope to be able to buy the carpets, rugs, pictures and books still needed to make the room ideal. The officers hope to get a larger appropriation from the City Council than has been given before, and also to increase the membership so as to be able to buy the much-needed furniture and books.

Mrs. Thomas Nelson Page has given an endowment of $4,000, but only the interest may be used.

The other source of revenue is from the payment of the membership fee of $1 for working girls and $3 for others. The present membership is about 416. The members are allowed to take books out for a period of two weeks, and the books may be read in the library by any one fram 9 A. M. to 10 P. M.
